

Response to a letter from Indigenous Services Canada dated April 12, 2024

Please read my book.

I find your response insulting, insulting to First Nations, insulting to rural and small-town Canadians and to me. Don't tell me how great you are doing when I have witnessed the exact opposite.

Canada is the only developed country that does not have Drinking Water Regulations, and we need those regulations to be equal to, or exceed the standards developed by WHO, and endorsed by the UN to be the rights of Indigenous people.

Susan Blacklin

April 15, 2024